"WHAT SHOULD CHRISTMAS LOOK LIKE?"

A mother and father went Christmas shopping one Saturday afternoon with their seven-year-old daughter. The little girl was so thrilled and enthusiastic about the season. But her parents were just the opposite--they were so grumpy, so tense and uptight, so worn out with all the traffic jams and lists and bills and long line.

When the family returned home that night, the little girl was singing Christmas carols; but her mother and father were arguing and irritated with one another. Finally, the father, told the little girl to stop singing and go to bed.

The little girl started upstairs to her room; but she stopped on the stairway, opened the window, and looked out. "Why did you open the window and let in the cold air?" her father asked. "Because I thought I heard the angels singing," she answered. Still angry and tired, the father said, "I don't hear any angels singing, and neither do you. Now get upstairs, and get in that bed right now!" The little girl started up the stairs; but then she paused and said gently, "Daddy, if you want to hear the angels sing, you have to listen with your heart."

For many people, we cannot slow down long enough and we cannot turn down the volume level enough in our lives to enjoy Christmas. That's why the holidays are a burden. The obligations, the guilt, the exhaustion of the season can easily outweigh the pleasures.

Let me tell you about Shelly. She and her husband both work full-time. She insists on preparing the family Christmas dinner for twenty-five people by herself. She spends weeks baking, cleaning, and shopping. Then she's up at 3 A.M. on Christmas morning to put the turkey in the oven and finish the preparations. By 3 P.M. Christmas day she's in tears, because she's exhausted.

Then there's Bill & Nancy. They chase around for weeks, and finally they have collected everything on their list. They stop for the first time in weeks to have a quiet moment. Michael's new bike is leaning next to the wall; Sara's doll house is set up in the corner. But something's not right. Gradually it dawns on them: It doesn't look like enough. They have spent incredible amounts of time--not to mention the money. They bought everything the kids had on their lists and then some. But it just doesn't fit their image of what a wonderful Christmas should look like. What should Christmas look like?

According to psychologists, the Christmas season triggers feelings of loneliness, regret, nostalgia, and failure in many people. And much of the pressure we feel during this season is caused by the pressure we put on ourselves. We feel guilty about not doing enough or not doing it right.

Isn't it time to re-examine the way we do things? Do you realize that no other culture around this world starts the Christmas holidays in September? You won't find slogans like "Only twelve shopping days until Christmas" in Scotland. In Spain, Christmas Eve is a purely religious celebration. Families gather before their crèches to sing hymns and pray before going to midnight Mass. In Ireland, there are few Christmas decorations, except for lit candles set in windows on Christmas Eve to light the Holy Family's way.

Now hear me clearly--I am not advising that we all go out and become modern day "Grinches"/"Scrooges"--I enjoy buying gifts for my family & friends, I enjoy putting up the decorations in the front of my house--I absolutely love many of the holiday traditions--BUT there is a limit to our energy and money and time--therefore, we had better be very intentional and careful about keeping our focus - or else--I'll guarantee you that there are plenty of people who would like to define Christmas for you--and it will never be enough--because that's the way it is designed. It is an important question: What should Christmas look like?

The people at the Barna Research Group took a poll and found that only 37% of adults in America believe that the birth of Jesus is the most important aspect of Christmas. 44% found that family time is the most important part of the Christmas celebration.

Take a look at the Christmas decorations in your neighborhood. Isn't it true that you can look at the vast majority of them without ever having the slightest clue that the season has anything to do with Jesus Christ? What should Christmas look like? May I suggest to you--that Christmas looks like what happened in Bethlehem. And that we need to go over to Bethlehem to see it. We have to slip away from the mall, and stand back from our multi-tasking, and turn off the TV, and control our own appetites long enough to go over to Bethlehem to see what Christmas looks like.

Consider the shepherds who were keeping watch over their flock by night. They were minding their own business; this night didn't look much different than any other. Then God broke in and spoke to them when an angel of the Lord suddenly stood before them. Their first reaction was Fear. Followed by Reverent Attention. What strikes me about this encounter with God's messenger angels is that the angels did not give the shepherds specific instructions about what they were to do. They didn't push them, threaten them, or promise any material reward. They didn't have a star as the Wise Men did, nor some kind of escort angel. The angel simply said in V.12, "This will be a sign for you: you will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger." "You will find" implies that you will seek. God revealed Himself to these shepherds but this wasn't just the first recorded Christmas decoration out there on some lawn outside of Bethlehem--God is saying that when He reveals Himself, we are required to respond with faith and action.

So, do you want to know what Christmas looks like? It looks like the scene there in Bethlehem, and it's not just the familiar stable and manger, Mary and Joseph and the Baby Jesus--no, it also includes these shepherds making major adjustments in their lives in order to join God in what He was doing.

Max Lucado in his book, The Applause of Heaven, puts it like this: "A small cathedral outside Bethlehem marks the supposed birthplace of Jesus. Behind a high altar in the church is a cave, a little cavern lit by silver lamps. You can enter the main edifice and admire the ancient church. You can also enter the quiet cave where a star embedded in the floor recognizes the birth of the King. There is one stipulation, however. You have to stoop. The door is so low you can't go in standing up.

The same is true of the Christ. You can see the world standing tall, but to witness the Savior, you have to get on your knees. So. . . . {out there in Bethlehem, the night when Jesus was born} while the theologians were sleeping, and the elite were dreaming, and the successful were snoring, the meek shepherds were kneeling. They were kneeling before the One only the meek will see. They were kneeling in front of Jesus."

So--what does Christmas look like? It is a picture of God coming into the world to visit and redeem, God turning things around for us, God coming through with His grace and love to give us a new start, a new beginning, a new chance, a new life. What does Christmas look like? It's a picture where we do not have to face our problems and challenges alone. But there is only one thing needed, you've got to get out of the mall, and get out of your schedule, and get out of yourself, and come over to Bethlehem and see the hope and the life that is happening there. Amen.

PRAYER REQUEST REMINDER!!

PRAYER REQUESTS will be placed in the Sunday bulletin for one month. If you wish to have someone included in the prayer list for an additional month, please contact Judy directly at the church office at 436-6213 or at messiahlutheran@pa.net! If you have anyone who is a "last minute" addition after the bulletin has been printed on Fridays, please fill out an orange prayer card in the pew and lay it on the stand where the gluten free wafers are placed PRIOR to the morning worship service.

WELCA met on Thursday, November 10th at 7 P.M. Barb Geedey led the group in devotions on Thanksgiving and the business meeting.

Cynthia Smith presented the treasurer's report stating that as of this time she has received $365.00 for blankets.

Barb reviewed the plans for the Thankoffering Service on Sunday and reported that this Monday, November 14th will be the knitters last meeting for this year. We will start up again on Monday, January 9th at 6:30 in the Junior Church room.

Barb reported that the Christmas Angel poster is on the bulletin board in the kitchenette upstairs. The date for the gifts to be wrapped, labeled, and brought to the church is Sunday, December 4th.

We have postponed deciding on what group/child we are going to sponsor until our January meeting.

Our December meeting will be held on Thursday, the 8th. Everyone is to bring a favorite reading, a Christmas decoration that means something to them personally, and a Christmas goodie for refreshments.

Our January meeting will be held on Thursday, the 12th with Cynthia presenting the program.

Thursday – 9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Friday – 12:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

CHURCH OFFICE REQUEST

Please notify Judy in our church office for any address, email address, or phone number updates for those in our congregation, friends or families, as well as any requests for building usage. At this time of year, in particular, a lot of activities are going on, and some coordination is needed as to not “overbook” any specific areas of the church. This also goes for changes in (church) groups who meet at the church. Please contact Judy at the office at 436-6213 or at messiahlutheran@pa.net to share this information. THANK YOU!

HANGING OF THE GREENS SERVICE

The annual Hanging of The Greens Service 2016 will be held Sunday, December 4th during the morning worship time. Please come join us! This is a special service with Christmas Carols, and learning about the meaning behind our church Christmas traditions.

CANDLELIGHT AND CHRISTMAS EVE SERVICE

The 2016 combined Christmas Eve Service will begin at 7:30 PM. We are especially pleased to announce that beginning at 7:00 PM, a Prelude concert will feature our own Bob St. Clair with special selections on the organ! Please plan to attend this beautiful service for the whole family including music (featuring a special anthem with combined Jr. & Sr. Choir), Communion, and Candle Lighting in celebration of anticipation of the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ!

POINSETTIAS

Poinsettias to decorate the church for Christmas may be placed in honor or in memory of someone, or to the Glory of God. The cost is $8.00 for a 6½" plant with 3 to 4 blooms. You may order by calling the church office at 436-6213.

DONATIONS NEEDED FOR NEW CHOIR, CRUCIFER, & ACOLYTE GOWNS

We have had our current gowns for about 15 years. They have become worn, and some have stains that can't be removed. We also need more/different sizes for the crucifers and acolytes. They will be the same style and in white, but a little lighter, cooler fabric. We already have $1000 (from a memorial in memory of Sam Zeiders) and $410 in congregational giving, which still leaves us needing $958 towards a total bill of $2,368 for 19 gowns and 2 more rope cinctures. We will be keeping the salvageable gowns as backups as needed. If you would like to contribute to this project, please mark your check on the note line "CHOIR GOWNS" or if giving cash, put in an envelope also marked "CHOIR GOWNS." We thank you in advance, and appreciate any amount you feel you can contribute to this project.
