“Proclaiming God’s love revealed in Jesus Christ and his People”

The Messiah Herald

I AWAKE, AND I AM STILL WITH YOU

I like to know the direction I’m facing—the cardinal direction. If I’m facing north, I want to know it. If the road is headed mostly southwest, I want to know it. Sometimes when I travel, I awake in the middle of the night and don’t know which way I’m facing in the bed. It may be that I didn’t know when I went to sleep, or it may be that the strangeness of my surroundings confuses my normal sense of direction.

Whatever the reason, for me it is uncomfortable to wake up to directional disorientation. But how much more troubling is it to think I might wake up one day with a heart disorientation? Is it possible for me to lose my way while I sleep?

Have you ever wondered at the fact that you wake up believing in Christ? Have you considered the mercy of God in your first moments of the day, when your eyes open and your brain resumes its thinking function? How is it that even while we sleep, we don’t lose our bearings concerning Christ?

You are known by God

In Psalm 139, David is telling God how much He, being God, knows about him. It is a prayer couched in the confidence that the God who is, is the God who knows.

My Dad will sometimes “predict” how I will react to certain situations. Even now after I’ve been out of the house for quite a few years, there is a way that he knows me. I have begun collecting this knowledge of my children as well, observing their moods, activities, and attitudes. I know them, in some ways better than they know themselves.

God, however, is acquainted with every single one of your ways (v3)—when you get up and sit, he knows (v2), and he knows the words you will say before you speak (v4). In fact, before you were born, the days that you will live were written down and planned out for you (v16)! His information is not based on observation, but on his creation and formation of you.

There is comfort here too, in being known. When someone knows you, you can trust him. When they understand you, you can rest in their presence. The people you are most comfortable around are those who “get” you, who don’t operate on wrong assumptions, and who know you for who you really are. They love you.

The one who made you is the one who keeps you.

After reveling in the fact that God saw his unformed substance (i6), which is a description of a human embryo in its early stages, David says, “I awake, and I am still with you” (i8). In whatever circumstance he found himself in, David had this confidence—that God was with him, even while he slept.

Have you ever felt guilty for falling asleep while praying? The other day, author and pastor Scott Sauls (@scottsauls) tweeted this encouragement, “Feel guilty falling asleep while praying? How do you feel when a child nods off in your lap? And how much more must your Heavenly Father feel about you when this happens? There. Feel better? You should!”

When children fall asleep in your lap, how much more are you ready to love them when they wake up? How do you care for them as they sleep there in your arms? Is there anything you wouldn’t do to protect them in their defenseless state of rest?

Because of Christ, the disposition of God toward the believer is intimately acquainted protective care. If Jesus died for you, will not his Father watch over you? Our mistake is to believe that we are somehow safer when we’re awake, when in reality, God is the one who keeps us in our waking and our sleeping. If you are in Christ, you will never wake up to find yourself out of him. Rest well in this.

For even more comfort, read Psalm 139 again for yourself!

The Women of the ELCA met on Thursday, July 11 at 7 P.M. in the Young Adult Sunday School Classroom. Cynthia Smith led the program from Psalm 94 and 118 on Joy being the free gift to everyone. She also read an excerpt from the book The Best of Barbara Johnson. The excerpt dealt with "finding joy in spite of what life throws at you." Thank you, Cynthia.

The minutes from the previous meeting as presented in the July newsletter were approved. As Treasurer, Cynthia reported the $75.00 was sent to Camp Mt. Luther to purchase a bench in their outside arena, $200 was sent to the Camp to help with the Seed 25 project, and $140 was sent to sponsor to children to attend school in Liberia. Part of the money for the school children came from Junior Church offerings. Thank you, Junior Church.

Old Business: The convention at Camp Mt. Luther will be held on July 20th. Linda Leister, Cynthia Smith, and Barb Geedey will be attending. Cynthia and Barb gathered up the collected items for the Camp and delivered them on Saturday the 20th.

We also discussed a possible speaker for our Thankoffering Service in November. Everyone agreed that Barb should contact Erin Boven-dam to see if she was available. Barb will report back in July.

New Business: There will be a retreat at Camp Mt. Luther in the Fall. This takes place of the Cluster meetings that used to be held at individual churches. Barb doesn't have any information on the retreat yet but will probably find out more at the Convention. Barb will report back to the group in August.

The August meeting will be held on Thursday, the 8th in the Young Adult Sunday School room. Claire will present the program.

Respectfully submitted by Barb Geedey.

Thank you for your compassion and for sharing in our mission to care for "the least of these." WORSHIP CHANGES

As a congregation, Messiah has always prided itself in its worship services, organization, music, and those who selflessly help put our services together behind the scenes 52 weeks/services a year, with a few extra for good measure, such as Christmas Eve and Ash Wednesday. With that in mind, the Worship & Music committee is looking to make a few changes – ranging from cosmetic to semi-major – to our weekly bulletin beginning in a few weeks. Again, a lot of what you will find will be cosmetic in nature. This includes changing the Hymn of Praise and Kyrie to tunes that are familiar to all of us, provided by the relatively "new" ELW hymnals. Some of the changes will be semi-major.....but space saving – such as placing the "actual" scriptures in the hands of the lector, worship leader, and organist, leaving the rest of us listening to and focusing on the word of our Lord. The same goes for our weekly Prayers. The prompt for each week will be printed in the bulletin, but the petitions themselves will be in the hands of the worship leader and organist. We hope that the changes, which have been made with great care and a lot of time and persistence, will make the worship service even more meaningful to you and allow us all to focus on the word of our Lord.
